“ Dale was a very respectful and kind man whom never hesitated to visit our establishment for a cup of coffee, he knew almost everyone by name and would always open the door for any of the employees whom worked here. He always provided entertaining and enciteful conversation and was very helpful when anything went wrong in the resturant. I was very impressed with how sharp he was, and loved to hear one of his many stories he had to share. My condolences especially go out to Dale's family and he will be missed.
