Nick was a very kind person. I've never met anyone with such patience and even temperament. I am glad to have been considered as family and I enjoyed our get togethers. I'm sad that he gone. Dion Rel

It is with such sadness that I recently learned of Nick's passing. He was my boss at SFO. Nick always treated me fairly, was never cross and was always willing to lend a helping hand doing customer service duties in a pinch which is something many managers would never do. For that matter, he treated everyone decently as far as I could tell. He earned my respect and I learned that he was a stand-up guy. As I look back, I probably never expressed to him how much I appreciated his presence which I regret. With any luck and some special help, perhaps he will learn of my thoughts now. May Nick Low rest in eternal peace.
