“ My sister, Carla, and I would see Doug playing music around Benicia in the mid-1970's. Years later, we took my father to his hearing aid appointment in Vallejo and the receptionist turned out to be JoAnn . It was fun meeting her and sharing memories of the “good old days”. I remember she told us she met Doug when he was standing behind her in the check-out line at Safeway. They started talking, he went home with her and never left. I loved that story.

“ I have too many stories to even write down we have been friends since 3rd grade. We have cried and laughed together over the years mostly laughed. I loved Doug dearly too. I've missed Doug but now Jo and Doug will be together and that is what she wanted. I could make her laugh during serious moments I'll never forget her asking me "Can't you ever be serious! But always laughing with tears in her eyes. Friends!!
